The DAAD invites you to the German Science Night taking place on Thursday, 15th June 2017

You can move between two locations:

At 9pm: Opening at the cinema Zamalek, followed by 3 scientific documentaries including 'Nature Tech – Life of Power', a movie exploring biomimetics, 'Science and Islam – The Empire of Reason', presenting the history of Science in Islam, as well as 'Plug & Pray', which discusses the chances and pitfalls of artificial intelligence. The admission begins at 8.30pm, the last documentary ends at 01:00 am.

In parallel;

From 9:30 pm on, you are welcome to the Science Lounge at DAAD Zamalek, where short presentations, an exhibition on Nano Technology and an information market will await you.... You will have the chance to meet up with professors, Alumni and representatives of Egyptian-German research projects as well as of German Institutions like the German Archeological Institute (DAI), TU Berlin Campus El Gouna, TU Munich, FU Berlin, and the University of Marburg.

All participants will be invited to join the German Science Night Sohur at 01:00 at DAAD premises.

During the whole night, visitors are invited to move freely between the two locations of Zamalek Cinema and the DAAD premises.

Organizational remarks:

- The event targets university students, university staff members and researchers
- Participation is free of charge
- · No prior registration is required
- Snacks and drinks will be served during the event

We are very much looking forward to welcoming you at our first German Science Night!

The German Science Day 17 July 2017 - for outstanding doctoral and postdoctoral candidates

Call for application

On 17 July, the DAAD with its new regional initiative COSIMENA will organize the German Science Day for the sixth time. This event reflects a unique opportunity for doctoral and postdoctoral candidates to meet representatives of various German universities including the Technische Universität Berlin, the Philipps Universität Marburg, the Technical University of Munich and the Freie Universität Berlin, Moreover, the German Science Day provides insights into scholarships, programmes, application procedures and financing models as well as individual counselling sessions to establish a first-contact with German Professors.

Kindly find the application forms for doctoral and postdoctoral candidates below and send them along with your CV to cosimena@daadcairo.org until 17 June 2017.
